March Update

2009

South African National Championships

This is a final reminder to get your entry forms in and register for Nationals. I can assure you that this will be the best Nationals ever and as good, if not better, than a World event.

Our sponsors  are going big for this event. The formal launch of the sponsorship will be held on Friday afternoon 3rd April at 16h00 after the days flying! There will be a mini display followed by the official announcement and then a spit braai for all Competitors, Officials, Sponsors, Media and Club members. Please make an effort to attend.

As most of you have noticed in the Bulletin sent out last week, there was a typo on the entry form. The Date says June instead of April. Sorry 4 that, but the dates in the rest of the Bulletin are all correct.

SAC website

I am sure that you have all noticed that the website has been down for a few weeks now. We understand your frustration, but please be patient as we have a problem! Ian has had problems with the server and some technical glitches with some areas of the scoring program on the site. Hopefully it will all be up and running soon.

RV Aerobatics

Dave King sent out a mail regarding Stew Lithgow becoming involved in training RV owners. I had a long chat to Stew today, and he is very keen to come onboard and help with aerobatic training for the RV pilots. I really wanted to get involved, but have just not had the time of late so I am very pleased to have someone with such experience to mentor this group of enthusiasts. Stew has recently acquired a new RV7. He is a training Captain on A340's with SAA, has been a team member of the Flying Lions Harvard Aerobatic Team for many seasons now, and has vast Aerobatic training experience on Pitts Specials. Welcome Stew and thanks for your enthusiasm and support. We look forward to the continued growth of the RV class and seeing you and your Son Neil at our events.

All that's left to say is see you at Nationals.

"Happy and Safe Flying!"
